JESUS & THE WORD

OF KINGS AND Villagers

Thirty-five obeyed the Gospel! We are so thankful for all of our Study Helpers who take the time to share Jesus and His Word!

His Royal Highness King Mumena of the Mumena Chieftaincy in North-Western Province, Zambia

BY BRIAN REX DAVIS | ACTION! EDITOR & WBS PRESIDENT

Twenty-three Study Helpers from five congregations joined Sondra and me in Zambia in July for a World Bible School follow-up Gospel meeting. We used the WBS advanced course, "Test the Spirits," for our lessons.

Each campaigner prepared to teach 16 hours of cross-cultural classes that challenged us to look to Jesus as the author and finisher of our faith and His inspired Word as the source of our understanding.

His Royal Highness King Mumena visited the encampment with his entourage, and after reviewing the lessons, said, "You Gospel people, share the Word of God with my people!" He didn't have to ask twice.

Allison Davis (above, in the green shirt) is my daughter-in-law. She and her husband, Noah (my oldest son), joined several Study Helpers from the Central church of Christ in Paducah, Kentucky, on the campaign. Allison said this about her experience:

"My Students described their lives with witch doctors, the worship of dead ancestors and the fear inherent in a pagan worldview. Thankfully, some of them repented of following false gods and declared that they wanted to be followers of Christ. They repented of their sins, confessed Christ as Lord and were baptized.

After choosing to follow Christ, these women challenged their fellow Students to find true salvation and freedom. It was humbling to see souls so earnestly seeking the truth of God's Word. Beyond that, seeing such new Christians use their stories to evangelize their peers deeply touched me.

Even in their vulnerability, these ladies' commitment and earnest desire for truth motivate me to be an example and advocate for the same devotion in the States!"

Anson Cobarruvias from the Hillcrest church of Christ in Abilene, TX, shares his faith with the Kaonde people (and a football with Chief Mumena).

RESTORATION
in South Sudan

BY BRIAN REX DAVIS | ACTION! EDITOR & WBS PRESIDENT

Many of you gave to our Bibles for Millions Challenge over the past few years to provide Bibles in the most remote areas of the world. My heart is deeply touched when I see the well-worn copies of our World Bible School Study Edition Bible being used by the young leaders of the more than 320 new village congregations in the Aweil area of South Sudan. As you read this letter, 4,000 more WBS Study Edition Bibles are being shipped in a container provided by our sister ministry Mission Printing to help equip evangelists in Aweil, where they have experienced over 2,500 baptisms in 2026.

WBS is not only providing evangelism outreach help through our printed materials and smartphone apps; we are also providing critical advanced courses for many church leaders who are young in their faith and who are striving to teach and nurture their young congregations into maturity.

A great work of teaching, organizing and maturing is just beginning in this modern restoration movement. This year, I was able to teach our advanced courses, "Understanding the Bible" and "A History of God's People."

Through your help, all of our advanced courses are now available online to our global Student body through the WBS Library (wbslibrary.org). What a blessing for these young leaders to have these resources available as they, too, share the Gospel of Jesus!

Thank you for sharing Jesus and His Word to the very ends of the earth!

INDIA PROGRESS

What a joy it is to share Jesus with the 1.4 billion people of India!

Bringing Bible Study Into the Digital Age

After many hours of translation work by Anil Kumar (right), we now have the "Master Series" in modern Telugu, in a digital format and with modern fonts. Brother Saha Vanga (left) has helped provide a third-party brotherhood review of this translation. Our first seven courses will soon be ready to mount online on the World Bible School Library. Anil and Saha report that many courses are being used in print in India in Telugu, Tamil and Hindi. Getting these tools into modern digital format is vital.

A Legacy of Service in India

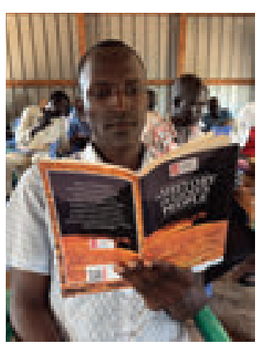

Brother Saha recently visited us in Austin, Texas, and filmed a "Together in Mission" podcast with Brian Davis. He was also able to meet with his missionary mentors, Wayne and Hilda Davis, in California. They have graciously provided many advanced Telugu courses for the work of WBS in India. Wayne and Hilda served in India for the better part of five decades.

GOD and Man

BY MATT COOK | ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF BIBLE, GLOBAL MISSIONS AND WORLD RELIGIONS, FREED-HARDEMAN UNIVERSITY

Humans are naturally inclined to shape gods into beings that reflect human values and needs. Throughout history, people have imagined and shaped gods that value power, sex, food and money, providing those things if the appropriate sacrifices are made. Such transactional religion relies on human effort to manipulate the gods into giving people what they desire.

The biblical story moves in the opposite direction: God takes the initiative to reveal Himself and pursue a relationship with the people He created. We therefore encounter a loving God who acts first, rather than a deity we must manipulate.

God's self-revelation in Scripture vividly demonstrates this truth. God has spoken because He desires to be known by His creation. We therefore approach Scripture not to shape God into our image but with humility, seeking to be shaped by Him. Simply put, God speaks to us through Scripture, and we study it not merely to gain information but to be increasingly transformed into the image of Christ.

Perhaps the best-known passage in Scripture about Scripture is 2 Timothy 3:16-17. It reminds us that God-breathed Scripture is intended to shape us — to teach, reprove, correct and train us. James compares God's Word to a mirror that reveals who we truly are and calls us to act on what we see (James 1:22-25). As we behold the glory of the Lord revealed in the New Covenant, we are "being transformed into the same image" (2 Corinthians 3:18). When Scripture takes root in our lives, God uses it to make us more like Jesus.

While idolatry shapes gods that reflect their makers, through Scripture, God shapes us into the image of His Son. This transformation is not a transaction but grows from a relationship initiated by the God who loves us and desires to be known. Yet even when we understand this truth, we remain tempted to remake God in our image. We see this clearly in social media Christianity, which often reduces God to a spokesman for our political opinions, personal preferences, cultural values and preexisting convictions. As we study Scripture, how can we make sure we are allowing God's revelation to shape us? We can begin by asking two questions.

First, "What is God's priority?"

We often approach Scripture looking for answers to our questions or support for what already matters to us. Instead, we must allow Scripture to reveal what matters most to God and then reorder our values, desires and lives around His priorities.

Second, "Do I trust that God knows what is best for me?"

God's instructions are not arbitrary restrictions but the wisdom of the Creator who knows what enables His creation to flourish. When Scripture challenges our desires or assumptions, obedience expresses our trust that a life shaped by God's wisdom is ultimately fuller and better than one shaped by our own.

God has not left us to imagine what He is like or to determine for ourselves what life should be. He has spoken, and His Word calls for more than agreement. When we listen with humility and respond with obedience, Scripture reshapes our priorities, our desires and ultimately our lives into the image of Christ.

COVENANT and Law

BY ALAN BUSH | ELDER AND MINISTER AT THE WASHINGTON AVENUE CHURCH OF CHRIST, EVANSVILLE, INDIANA

Christians must understand that the Bible, the complete Bible, is the inspired Word of God. The Apostle Paul spoke to the church in Thessalonica and related his thanksgiving because they accepted the Word of God which they received from him (1 Thessalonians 2:13). Today, our faith is based upon the written message of God which is supported by a multitude of evidence (Hebrews 11:1).

As we search through God's Word, we begin to understand that the Bible contains several covenants that God established with individuals as well as groups of people. A covenant is a formalized agreement between two or more parties. God's covenants contain His divine promises which are a binding commitment between man and God.

These covenants come with laws that serve as the terms or conditions for the covenant. We, therefore, have the responsibility to honor these laws, which is our obedience of the covenant.

The first covenant that God presented was with Adam. God offered Adam and his posterity eternal life in the garden with the tree of life with the condition of man's obedience. God directed Adam to tend and keep the garden; he could eat freely of every tree except the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. If he or anyone else ate from this tree, then they would "surely die" (Genesis 2:15-17). So, this covenant was established, yet Adam and Eve ate from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, breaking God's conditions, and therefore God sent them out of the garden and away from the "tree of life" (Genesis 3:24).

In time, Adam and Eve's descendants became very corrupt and violent, and God determined to destroy the earth. However, Noah walked with God, and he found grace in the eyes of the Lord (Genesis 6:5-8). God therefore made a covenant with Noah that if Noah built an ark exactly as He directed, then He would save Noah and his immediate family. Noah obeyed "all that God commanded him" (Genesis 6:18, 22), and God saved Noah and his family.

As we continue studying the Bible, we see another covenant, one that God made with Abraham (Genesis 15). God promised that his descendants would become great in number and that they would be given a land (Genesis 15:5-7). Plus, God revealed that through Abraham's seed, all the nations of the earth would be blessed (Genesis 22:18; 28:14).

We learn that Abraham's descendants, the Israelites, went into the land of Egypt and as they grew in number, the pharaoh became fearful and made them slaves. God called for Moses to lead the Israelites from Egypt to the land that He had promised. And Moses obeyed! It was at this time that God made a special covenant with Moses and the people of Israel. He would protect them from their enemies, guide them in their journey and continue to care for them when they settled in the promised land. God presented them with the Law of Moses which was specifically for them. Israel had its ups and downs, and God punished them when they turned against Him. Yet God kept His covenant to Abraham and through his seed, the Israelites, the Messiah came into the world to bless all nations of the earth (Galatians 3:16-19, 29).

Abraham's covenant with God was ultimately fulfilled by Christ when He nailed the Mosaic Law to the cross (Colossians 2:14). Christ then established a New Covenant in which all the world was to abide (Galatians 3:26-28). This New Covenant was identified when Christ established the Lord's Supper, explaining that the wine represents the blood of the New Covenant poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins (Matthew 26:28). Under this New Covenant, we also have a new law (Romans 8:1-2). John stated that we are to abide in the doctrine of Christ, and when we do, we have both God the Father and God the Son (2 John 1:9).

Christ's law directs us to go into all the world, teaching His New Covenant and bringing others to Him through obedience (Matthew 28:18-20; Mark 16:15-16). We must teach so that others believe (John 8:24), we must teach the necessity of repenting from sin (Luke 13:3), we must teach others to confess that Jesus is their Lord (Romans 10:9-10), and we must teach that Christ's saving blood is provided at baptism (Mark 16:16). Then we must remain faithful to the Lord's New Covenant for the rest of our lives or until He returns (Romans 6:17-18).

JESUS
the Focus of Our Bible Study

BY LARRY NUNLEY | WBS ADVANCEMENT REPRESENTATIVE

Jesus is THE WORD.

John 1 declares that Jesus is the Word, and every teaching in the Bible is intended to give us a deeper understanding of who He is. Every message of Scripture, directly or indirectly, points to Christ, the Redeemer — whether through a historical account, where we can see that God has plans for our future (Jeremiah 29), or through an illustration of Jesus' purpose. It is in these illustrations that Jesus teaches us who God is (John 14) and who we are meant to be (2 Corinthians 5).

Understanding that there is one God, manifested as Father, Son and Spirit, is essential to cultivating our relationship with Him and realizing that we are His workmanship, created in Christ (Ephesians 2). It is important to note that man was the only creation made in God's image and likeness, and His love for mankind (John 3) is why He sent His Son to die for our sins. Through Jesus' love, sacrifice and obedience, God shows us the relationship He wants to have with us.

In Genesis 3, God tells the serpent who deceived Eve that the seed of the woman would bruise or crush the serpent's head. This is what some call the protoevangelium, or the first Gospel — the first illustration that God already had a plan of redemption. Yes, in the beginning, Jesus was already the Savior of all mankind. This basic, fundamental knowledge will help connect some dots as you journey through the Bible and seek to understand God's power, eternal purpose and promise.

Jesus is the ultimate example of God's love. He tells us of His love in 1 John 4. God loved us first through His Son, Jesus Christ, and in John 13, Jesus gives a new command: that we love others just as He has loved us. He demonstrated His love in the way He lived among us.

In the Egyptian story of the Passover, in Exodus 12, the blood of an unblemished lamb was to be put on the doorposts of each Hebrew slave's house for protection from the plague brought upon the Egyptians. The blood of the lamb on the Hebrew doorposts was a sign for God to spare the firstborn within. Today, Jesus is our Passover Lamb. It is because of His sacrifice — the shedding of His blood — that when the wages of sin come our way, we will be passed over because God recognizes the blood of the Lamb on all baptized believers (Romans 6).

In His own words, Jesus asserts that He always does what pleases the Father. He proclaims that He is the Way, the Truth and the Life. No one else could have made that claim. Jesus was the example of complete obedience, as He states in John 17. He brought God glory on earth by doing what He was sent here to do and, in doing so, set the blueprint for every Christian's obedience.

The book of Hebrews illustrates that Jesus, the Christ, is more than sufficient. He is the power and reason for everything and, as such, is the central focus of God and His love for us. Christ Jesus fulfills all of the Law and the Prophets: He fulfilled God's requirement for the forgiveness of sins through His death on the cross, and every book in the Bible points toward Him and His coming to earth as the Redeemer from our sins. Therefore, every study in His Word is about Jesus: the Word, the incarnation of God.

Without Jesus, God remembers that we are dust (Psalm 103). We are fragile creatures without Him and are slaves to sin (Romans 7). Blessedly, His love reaches out first with mercy, then judgment (Exodus 34).

With Jesus, we are saved. Through Him, we become the righteousness of God (2 Corinthians 5). We are more than conquerors (Romans 8). Thus, in every study of God's Word, we must desire to understand more about the focus of Scripture, Jesus Christ, so that we can learn more about ourselves and our purpose on earth.

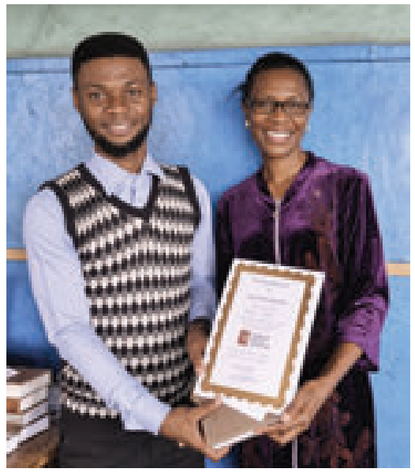

NIGERIA
Follow-up

A Season of Growth

Brother Uyai Sunday and Monday Akpakpan report that the Abak WBS Team has had a tremendous August and September for evangelism. Between brotherhood lectureships, youth meetings and WBS seminars, they saw 259 baptisms, four restorations and one new congregation planted!

Growing in Lagos

The Lagos Service Center has been busy recruiting Ocean Bridge Students, conducting graduations and offering WBS Follow-up within the greater Lagos area. This WBS Follow-up extends to the school staff as well as the Students.

We are grateful for the open doors in the nation of Nigeria!

102 Students Baptized

One Day in Zimbabwe

BY DANIEL GAINES | WBS OCEAN BRIDGE MANAGER

In a remarkable day for World Bible School's Ocean Bridge program, 102 Students were baptized into Christ in a single day at Shundure Secondary School in Zimbabwe.

The WBS Service Center in Zimbabwe organized a special graduation day inviting Students, parents and community leaders to celebrate the Students' progress in their Bible studies. The gathering also provided an opportunity to share the Gospel with the wider community. After the graduation ceremony, attendees were divided into smaller classes according to their beliefs and spiritual backgrounds. WBS recruiters joined each group to teach the Gospel of Jesus Christ and explain His church.

With a portable baptistry available on-site, those who believed and were ready to be baptized had the opportunity to respond that same day.

By the end of the event, 102 Students had been baptized into Christ. Their response is a wonderful example of how studying God's Word can lead people to faith and obedience.

The work continues beyond graduation day. The newly baptized believers have begun gathering for Sunday worship at the school as they work to establish a new congregation. These gatherings will give them the opportunity to grow in their faith, study God's Word together and build a foundation for their life as a church.

What began as a celebration of Bible study achievements became an opportunity for 102 Students to be born again and find their place in the Body of Christ!

Washington Mhlanga, a WBS board member from Harare, Zimbabwe, and director of the Zimbabwe Orphans Project, has been instrumental in facilitating Follow-up in these schools. Mutare School of Preaching graduates Ignatious Mafukidze, Kudzai Kuzipa and Zowa Mucherera serve as evangelists.

NEW FACES

BY KELSEY TAYLOR | WBS DIRECTOR OF BUSINESS AFFAIRS

As we continue expanding our programs and outreach, we are pleased to welcome a new team member who will help carry God's mission forward.

Josh Brumfield joins World Bible School this year as Director of Technology. Josh was raised in a wonderful Christian family and in the churches of Christ, growing up in congregations across Arkansas, North Carolina and Mississippi.

He met his wife, Lauren, while working at FedEx in Memphis, Tennessee. After they married, they moved to Colorado, where they were part of a wonderful congregation in Monument for almost ten years. During that time in Colorado, they were blessed with two daughters, Olivia and Sophia. In 2013, they moved to Springfield, Missouri, to be near family. Professionally, Josh has spent the last 30 years in technology, designing and building software and leading development teams. He is deeply grateful and humbled by the opportunity to put that experience to work with WBS.

He has taught classes for all ages throughout his life and loves learning and growing alongside his students. He's also been blessed with the opportunity to serve as a deacon in various roles at several congregations over the years. He currently serves as an elder at the Water Mill church of Christ in Springfield, Missouri, alongside a wonderful group of Christians who sincerely love the Lord.

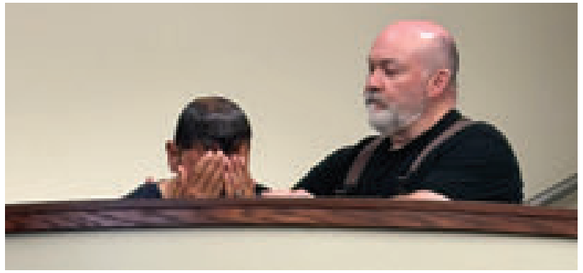

"I grew up in the church hearing about World Bible School, but it became personal when I was six and my mom's Student in Africa asked to be baptized. Back then, I never imagined I'd one day work here! I love God and His church, and I'm humbled to serve alongside a staff whose love for Jesus, the lost and one another encourages me every day."

FROM A BABYSITTING Request to the Family of God

BY JOSH BRUMFIELD | WBS DIRECTOR OF TECHNOLOGY

A couple of years ago, Alonzo and Samantha Gonzalez began attending the Water Mill church of Christ. The path there was ordinary at first. My daughters answered a Facebook request to babysit their children. While they were watching the girls, my daughters started bringing their three daughters to class and worship on Sundays. Before long, Alonzo and Samantha started coming too.

I invited them to the class I was teaching. Whenever they were not working, they came faithfully — Sunday and Wednesday. Then one Sunday they walked up and said, "We like it here and want to know what to do to become members. What should we do next?"

A few years earlier, Rick and Mary Shur had come to Water Mill to introduce Mathetis, the group Bible study platform produced by World Bible School. I had gone through some of the studies myself, but I had never used it with anyone else. This felt like the right time.

Alonzo and Samantha had already been hearing good sermons and classes at Water Mill for many months. We had also had some rich dinner-table studies. Mathetis added something those settings could not always provide: a way for them to absorb a great deal of teaching in their own time, then talk through it together in a way that made sense. Who is God? Who is Jesus? What did He do for us? What should I do because of that? Those are enormous questions. Mathetis helps walk through them simply and clearly, while keeping the conversation pointed at Scripture.

One day Alonzo texted me. It was time. They were ready to put on Christ in baptism and make the greatest commitment anyone can make. We met them at the church building, and they were baptized on June 4, 2026.

They did not stop at the water. When my dad was recovering from surgery recently, they brought food for several days. They help with children's classes. They bring visitors. They faithfully attend worship, and their kids are involved in everything. They were not merely baptized, they have become part of the family of God.

Tools like Mathetis can be a valuable aid in Bible study when they point people back to Scripture itself and encourage honest conversation about what God has said. We are grateful for the chance to walk with the Gonzalezes, and for the way the Lord worked through His Word.

SEEDS OF TRUTH IN San Andrés, Columbia

BY CARLOS HERNANDEZ | WBS SPANISH REPRESENTATIVE

One of the greatest blessings of working with World Bible School is seeing how a single seed planted in faith can quickly bear fruit. Earlier this year, I had the privilege of traveling to the island of San Andrés, Colombia, to assist the local congregation with a special outreach effort. A visiting brother from the United States presented lectures on Christian evidences across three universities and four high schools, and I served alongside him as his translator. During these presentations, we took every opportunity to hand out WBS flyers, inviting students to discover God's Word online. Among the many receptive young people was a student named Mónica Cardona. She listened with genuine interest, accepted a flyer and, to my surprise, reached out to me that very evening.

I invited Mónica to worship with the local church that Sunday, and she came. She stayed afterward with thoughtful, sincere questions about Scripture. My wife and I sat down with her for a deeper study, and her hunger for God's Word only grew. Mónica returned the following Sunday with even more questions. Today, she is actively connected to the local congregation, engaged with WBS courses and, most importantly, drawing closer to God.

Traveling and meeting wonderful people is fulfilling, but leading souls to Christ is the true reward. Sharing the Gospel through WBS can be as simple as handing out a flyer, sharing a link or sending a message. A single seed of truth can begin a journey that changes a life for eternity.

Please pray for all these precious souls as they grow and mature in the Word and in their love for Him and their neighbors.
